Students Stage Own Political Campaign

After an intensified pre-election campaign patterned after the national pictures (complete with parties and slogans), Party II at the Campbell Grammar School proved to be the best vote-getters. Hooter Meredith, eighth grade student, was elected president with members of his party slate filling almost every other office.

One of the outstanding campaign banners (typifying a train) is pictured below with the candidates from Party II peering through their respective peep-holes.

Editor's Note: Our apologies to Mrs. Dorothy Royce, principal, and Robert Downing, vice-principal. They were drafted to hold up the banner but we had to cut 'em off in the picture.

Was It 'Sputnik?'

Was "Sputnik" passing by? When you stand in your own yard minding your own business and then get conked on the head by a bottle, that's going too far. "Sputnik" or no "sputnik".

That's the way Mike Tock, 1035 E. Campbell, felt on Tuesday night when he reported to the police that while standing in his own yard a wine bottle came sailing through the air and landed on his noggin.

He thought the bottle came from an apartment at the rear of his yard. But the police upon investigation could find no one who would acknowledge having done the pitching.

MOTHER DIES

H. E. Alfson, assistant superintendent of the Campbell High School District, was summoned to North Dakota last week by the death of his mother.

Up to Bat Again

'CM' Zone Differences to Get Fresh Airing at Hearing on November 5

Differences of opinion that have not been reconciled between the two opposing factions around a conference table on the troublesome "Controlled Manufacturing" zoning question will be publicly aired Tuesday, November 5, when a public hearing on the revised controversial "CM" ordinance will be held.

The Planning Commission on Tuesday set the hearing date after hearing a report on the proposed changes and the compromise meetings between a committee of the Planners and the landowners of the industrial park area of Campbell.

It will be the second time at bat for the controversial zoning plan that will set up tight restrictions in the industrial park. It was back for changes by the City Council just before its final adoption into law the first time.

Agreements have been reached by the two factions on several points but still remaining as a bothersome one is the type of construction allowed ("CM" calls for masonry and concrete only while the landowners suggest any mode including the quonset-hut type).

Other points still inciting opposition by the landowners include the restrictions as to resale ("CM" limits it to wholesale) and the size of the parcels affected by the ordinance.

In deference to the small property owner, the Planners have ruled out that all parcels (no matter what size) would become "conforming" if recorded by October 1. The Planners, in addition, have conceded that side yard restrictions can be scaled down for the smaller property owners.

Flu Bug Eases Bite In Campbell Schools

School officials in the Campbell area continued this week to keep a wary eye on their absenteeisms as the flu-bug still hovered around. But apparently in no case had the bug hit any school hard enough to warrant calling the situation "alarming".

Camden High, according to a check by The Press, received the dubious honor of having the highest absenteeisms during the current siege.

Dean Chamberlin, princippal reported that last Friday his school had hit the peak when 450 were out of school or about 32 per cent of the 1500 enrolled. Chamberlin said that the absenteeisms had dropped to about 300 on Monday and less than that on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Campbell High

Campbell High on the other hand, according to Robert Culp, vice-principal and dean of boys, reached the peak in absenteeisms last week when on Wednesday approximately 325 were out of school. It dropped to 300 on Friday and remained about at that figure this week.

This amounts to about a 15 per cent rate of the enrollment of more than 1900 and which Culp reports is only about 10 per cent above normal for this time of year.

Outside of the cancellation of all league football games last weekend the only other semi-drastic action taken was the postponement of the school dance scheduled for this Friday, Culp said.

Grade Schools Lower

Absenteeisms in the elementary schools in the Campbell area were at a lower level generally than the high schools with the figure running between 10 and 12 per cent in the Cambrian, Moreland, Campbell and St. Lucy's schools.

According to Neal Royer, assistant superintendent of the Campbell schools, the breakdown of absenteeisms reported by the school nurse for the 12 schools in the district revealed that the upper grades were the hardest hit.

Campbell Grammar (only 7th and 8th grades) reached a high of 124 out of 768 on October 11 for about 16 per cent on Friday but on Monday only 113 were absent. The number had jumped from 76 the previous week.

Monroe School was the next highest, hitting 14 per cent Friday with 110 out but down to 84 on Monday. Hamilton School had 13 per cent (78 out) on Friday while the other schools (except Rosemary) varied from 11 per cent (Moorpark, San Tomas, Cypress) to a low of less than 6 per cent for Quito.

Most Go Down

Every school except Rosemary, Dover (up 17) and Cypress (up one) reported a lowering of absenteeisms by Tuesday of this week. Rosemary only had 31 absent on Friday but on Tuesday reported 83 out.

The overall figure for the district showed 722 out on Friday and 741 on Tuesday out of an enrollment of 6539.

In Cambrian, Miss Kay Anderson, school nurse, reported that only a few more than normal for this time of year were out of class and it was running less than 10 per cent.

Mrs. Joan Davis, school nurse at Moreland, reported that the new Castro School students (7th and 8th graders) were running about 12 per cent absent with three of the other four schools (Moreland, Strawberry Park and Bucknall) averaging less than 10 per cent.

Up At Quito Park

She mentioned that El Quito Park rose to 15 per cent and that they were watching their absenteeisms closely and urging the parents to keep the youngsters home at the first sign of a respiratory ailment.

Sister Mary Florence, principal of St. Lucy's Catholic School in Campbell, reported that the absenteeisms started rising in the middle of last week. On Monday and Tuesday of this week approximately 30 were absent from the 350 regularly enrolled. She said that all of the eight classes appeared to be affected equally.

Urge Cooperation

All the school officials urged the cooperation of the parents and that it was impossible to tell how many of the absenteeisms were attributed to flu or to other illnesses or for other reasons.

In most cases they point out, the flu lasts only a few days and apparently originated first in the heavier populated areas.

For Future Expansion . . .

Moreland District Votes on Bonds Tuesday

Voters in the Moreland School District will go to the polls next Tuesday (October 22) to vote on the approval of the issuance and sale of $750,000 in district bonds and for the obtaining of $3 million in State aid for the district

The usual two-fold vote is necessary, district officials point out, because the district must be bonded to the maximum in order to borow funds from the State. The district is not bonded to the limit now.

Because the district is now paying the maximum amount allowed (45 cents per $100 assessed valuation), the tax rate in the district will not be raised if the voters give their o.k. to the two propositions on the ballot Tuesday, school officials report.

To Issue Bonds

In order to keep up with the rapid growth of the district, it is planned to issue bonds as the assessed valuation permits and contribute this money toward the building of schools and buying sites. The present assessed valuation and bonding capacity of the Moreland District is low because there is no industry in the district.

At the present time, Mrs. Gussie Baker, superintendent, explains, $184,000 is the maximum amount the district could raise by issuing bonds.

Up 400 This Fall

Enrollment in the Moreland District, which extends into the city limits of Campbell on the west, on opening day this fall was up 400 from opening day of a year ago (1579 to 1979). A recent survey revealed that on September 30 there were 219 houses under construction in the district indicating that an accelerated school building program will be needed to keep pace with the growth.

Mrs. Baker points out that a school is needed on the new site near Graves Ave. in order to relieve Strawbery Park, Moreland and El Quito Park schools. A new school, she thinks, may eliminate double sessions at the others in 1958-59-60.

Money borrowed from the State will be used to construct a school on the new site and to purchase additional sites as well as adding classrooms to present school buildings.

It is estimated by district officials that it will probably be necessary to undertake two construction projects each year to keep up with the rapid growth due to the many subdivisions that are cropping up throughout the district.

The superintendent emphasizes that the money borrowed from the State must be repaid as the district is able to pay, but that the tax rate to retire bonds and repay the State cannot exceed the 45 cent per $100 maximum.

10-Year Expansion

She reports that the Moreland District has borrowed about one and one-half million dollars from the State and has issued $533,000 in district bonds within the last 10 years.

Mrs. Baker explained that these funds during these past 10 years have made it possible to:

1. Purchase six school sites of more than 74 acres.
2. Construct 48 classrooms and other buildings.
3. Finance the 13 classroom Castro School on Campbell Ave. (now under construction).
4. Finance four more classrooms and administration unit at Bucknall School.
5. Provide furniture, equipment and site development for four schools.

LUJAN CATCHES UP

Benny Lujan, Campbell High student body president and fleet halfback on the "B" football team, caught Mrs. Elaine Carey in the Press Pigskin Panel race last weekend.

Bike, Car Collide on Residential Street

Bruce Henry, seven-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil L. Henry, 152 S. Christopher Drive, Campbell, suffered a broken collar bone and a severly cut chin on Tuesday afternoon as a result of a bike-auto collision on Rickey Drive.

Police report that the car which was driven by Mrs. Karol Bernita Smith, 781 Rickey Drive, apparently had come to almost a complete stop when Bruce rode into it on his bike.

The injured youngster was taken by ambulance to O'Connor Hospital for emergency treatment and then returned to his home. Several stitches were taken in his chin and he must wear a yoke-like brace around his neck until his collar bone is healed.

COUNCIL TO MEET

Campbell's City Council will meet Monday night at the City Hall, 75 N. Central St., and few fireworks are expected over the more or less routine agenda that is outlined. The meeting is called for 8 p.m.

On The Line in Campbell

City Planners Tuesday turned down one application for a four-unit apartment building on Dunster Drive but approved another. The apartments are to be built in the Lawndale subdivision and both applications were filed by Charles J. Busack. The Planners felt that both apartment buildings were too much alike to make for attractiveness in the area.

A note from Long Advertising Inc. in San Jose directed to "on the line" Campbell Press reports that a new kind of pool is running in its San Jose office It is called "When Will the Sputnik Sputter Out?" A third of the proceeds go to the party that picks the magic day, a third to the party that picks the hour and the remaining third to the Defense Department to help finance the U. S. Satellite program.

What's That Song?

Yes, We Have Bananas . . .

The possibility of growing bananas in the heart of Campbell might seem a little far fetched to some people but the Joaquin Mirandas of 190 Harrison Street have a thriving 15-foot banana tree with fruit in their backyard that proves it can be done.

At the present time the young tree has two small stalks of bananas ripening and several large purple blossoms which means there will be more fruit in the near future..

Both Mr. and Mrs. Miranda are natives of Hawaii, coming to California in 1920 after their marriage. After moving to Campbell they decided to risk a few of their native Hawaiian plants and so sent for seeds.

Today, along with the banana trre, their garden boasts an orchid tree, vines of the black and yellow passion fruit, or Howle Mohios, guavas, manoes, thimble berries, a pineapple plant, and a large crop of taro from which the Hawaiian dish of poi is made.

Campbell Drive For United Givers Nears Half Mark

Merv Willoughby, Campbell United Givers drive chairman, said he hopes to announce that Campbell has reached the "half-way mark" in its $10,000 drive goal at the progress luncheon to be held today at noon at the Sainte Clarie Hotel in San Jose.

At last week's luncheon, Campbell announced collection of $427, only five per cent of the goal. Willoughby said that the drive is now well under way and that the Campbell goal may be reached by the end of the month.

Central Santa Clara County campaigners had collected a third of the $739,427 goal by last week.

Heading the drive in Campbell schools is Mrs. E. C. Andres. Jr. Claude Cunningham, Teachers Association president, is working on the campaign in Campbell and Camden High Schools.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Evelyn Shumway; a son, Harold Shumway, Jr.; his mother, Mrs. Vischer Gleason of Martinez; two sisters, Mrs. Ella Hunden of Orange, and Ethel Shumway of Palo Alto; and two brothers, William M. Harrison of Campbell and Frank Shumway of Colorado.

Interment was in Santa Clara City Cemetery.

The band will also present an evening performance at 8:15 p.m.

Change of Zoning Worries Planners

A crystal ball was needed by the City Planners Tuesday night when they tried to decide whether the future business district of the town would extend up N. Second St.

D. P. Sevrens, 41 N. Second St., had applied for a zone change for his property (just back of the Campbell Memorial Chapel) from single family to multiple-dwelling. (R-1 to R-3). He told the Commission that the area was unsuited now for single-family residence because of its proximity to the business district. He wanted to convert the house into multiple units.

It touched off more than an hour-long discussion on the advantages and disadvantages of making the area commercial rather than R-3. Commissioner Les Harmon held that thought should be given to the future as it appeared inevitable that the business district would extend that way and wondered whether a multiple-unit building would block the advance.

Other commissioners, while agreeing with Harmon's point of view for the most part, felt that a study should be given the possibility of changing the zoning to commercial for a larger area not limiting it to just one lot. Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, pointed out the need for a secondary "circulation system" for the central business district.

The Planners finally denied the application without prejudice and with Sevrens agreeing it was suggested that a new application be made at the next meeting for R-2 rather than R-3 zoning and adding the architectural approval ("S") of the Commission.

But it was also pretty much agreed that commercial zoning of the area was not too far in the future.

Criminologist Tells Club About Laboratory Work

Problems facing criminologists were described Monday to Rotary members by Lowell Bradford, Santa Clara County criminologist. Bradford illustrated his talk with slides and told how bits of hair and skin, chips of automobile paint and other materials can be compared under a microscope and linked to an accident or crime.

One case he related concerned a hitch-hiker who was beaten and robbed by a couple who gave him a lift. The couple denied all knowledge of the crime or the picking up the hitch-hiker until the criminologists proved a match dropped in their car was from a packet belonging to the robbery victim.

Bradford said although most of his department's work is concerned with the physical side of crime detection, it also does ballistic research and works with the county coroner on determining cause of deaths.

Pollard Votes to Annex

Residents of a 90-acre area south of Campbell voted 21-13 in favor of annexation to the town of Los Gatos at Monday's Los Gatos City Council meeting.

The area, known as the Pollard Road 1 area, includes the property south of West Parr between Capri drive and Pollard road.

Cougars, Bees Vie

After a week layoff forced by cancellation of all SCVAL athletics last week, Camden High's three football teams resume action today and tomorrow.

Both the Cougar varsity and Bee teams will travel to Los Altos to meet the Knights tomorrow night. Bee game time is 6 p.m. and the varsity game is set for 8 p.m.

The Cougar junior varsity opens its league schedule when it meets Los Gatos today at 3.30 at Camden.

The Cougar varsity has lost one and tied one this season while the Bees have won one and tied one.

Nab Bike Thief

A 13-year old Campbell youngster who apparently has been operating as a bike-theft syndicate on a do-it-yourself basis for sometime was picked up by the Campbell police this week. He admitted to five thefts of bikes in the Campbell area and the police are checking him out on others.

According to the police, the boy would in some cases sell the parts off the bike while in other instances he would sell the stolen bikes complete.

He was picked up by the police when he was spotted riding off on a bike that didn't belong to him. The youngster has been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Hornets in Crucial Against Millbrae

The undefeated Billy Wilson Golden Hornets go after a crucial win that should decide the championship of the Pop Warner Conference when they tackle the unbeaten Millbrae Lions Sunday at 1:30 p.m. at Campbell field.

The Hornets, Santa Clara County's entry in the 11-team league, will go into the game 6-point underdogs. They have a record of five victories with four games remaining in the season and have scored 117 points to their opponents' 18.

Fullback Mickey DeVita of Campbell has been outstanding against Hornet opponents this season. Two other Campbell boys also on the squad are Howard Hill and Steve Fryer.

Buc Bees Ready For Fremont 'Jinx' In Grid Tilt Today

Coach Hal Raley's Buccaneer Bees will be out to break the "Fremont jinx" when they host the unfriendly Indians today at 3:30 p.m. at Campbell field.

The Bucs have won only once from the Indians in SCVAL play, squeezing out a 7-6 victory two years ago. The Indians stopped Campbell last year, 19-7.

"Fremont is always tough for us," Raley said this week, "but the squad is up for this one and on paper we should win it."

Raley said the Bees have greatly improved their blocking and that his backs are charging much harder than when they were blanked in their opener against James Lick, 14-0. The Bees showed substantial improvement in their second game, clobbering Mountain View, 39-6.

Campbell will be ready to "open up" the game today with plenty of passing and more flankers in an attempt to break the Indian hex. A win for the Bees today would put them in at least fourth place in SCVAL competition.

Almost completely recovered from an attack of flu, the Bees should be at full strength today.

Fremont also comes into the game with a 1-1 record. The Indians lost to Camden in their opener, then picked up a win over Los Gatos.

Although the Fremont line has shown some weaknesses in previous games, Raley does not view the Indians lightly. The visitors will field a dangerous backfield combination that could give Campbell trouble.

Hoopsters Meet Los Gatos Today

After a two game layoff due to game cancellations, Campbell High's C and D basketball teams resume play against Los Gatos today at 3:30 in the Campbell gym.

Both teams won their openers against Mountain View last week and are undefeated in league play. SCVAL decision cancelled a league game with Santa Clara set for last Thursday and a practice game with Santa Cruz scheduled for last Tuesday.

Army—Notre Dame

The fighting Irish of Notre Dame came along and upset Army 23-21. Monty Stickles who kicked his first field goal to win the game felt real good especially since he had missed the extra point which would have tied the game a few minutes before. Terry Brennan, Irish coach didn't know it was Stickles first field-goal attempt when he called the play.

Washington State Rallies

The Washington State Cougars upset the Stanford Indians 21-18 by scoring two touchdowns with four minutes to play.

Stanford really pushed them around the field in the first half leading 19-0. The Cougars came back in the third quarter looking a little beter and scored one touchdown making the score 18-7.

I attended the game and was certainly taught a lesson. Along with Stanford, I thought the game was in the bag and my prediction okay.

About five minutes before the game was over my Dad said let's leave and beat the crowd. We had just gotten to the top of the stairway when Washington broke loose. It's sure true—a game is never won till that final gun—no matter what the score.

Navy Beats Cal—21-6

The strong Navy Team took Cal 21-6. Cal really fought hard—holding the Navy with three goal line stands in the first half. The Navy had tremendous ground power and I don't think Cal has anything to be ashamed of.

World Series

The World Series are over and we have a new World Champion - The Milwaukee Braves. I was surprised to see my Yankees downed, but certainly have to hand it to such a gallant team. The pitching of Lew Burdette was simply tremendous but the whole team was right behind him and deserve their share of credit.

The Yanks played good baseball and I still think they will be back up there next year.

Seven new records were set in the Series. Fourteen series records were tied.

Yogi Berra, Yanks catcher, accounted for three.

1. Most games played in World Series competition—54
2. Most series participated in by catcher—9
3. Most games caught total series—52.

Johnny Logan of the Braves set a record for the most assists by a short stop in a series game when he collected 10 in the fourth game.

The 1957 series drew an all-time record attendance of 394,712.

Records Set

Most games played, total series—54 - Yogi Berra—N.Y. (A.L.)

Most series played, catcher, Yogi Barra, N.Y. (A.L.) 1947, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 55, 57.

Most games caught, total series, 52, Yogi Berra, N. Y. (A. L.) 9 series.

Most consecutive games, 1 or more hits, total series 14—Hank Bauer, N.Y. (A.L.) 1956, 7 games; 1957, 7 games.

Most assists, game, shortstop, 10; Johnny Logan, Milwaukee (N.L.) Oct. 6, 1957.

Most bases on balls, game, both clubs, 19; N.Y. 11; Milwaukee 8.

Bucs To Host Fremont

With almost half of his squad either definitely out with influenza or just returning to practice this week, Campbell Coach Jim Muir sends his Buccaneers against the powerful Fremont Indians tomorrow at 3 p.m. at Campbell field.

The Bucs, hit by the flu bug last week, did not play their scheduled intra-district game with Camden High after SCVAL officials cancelled all league athletics to prevent spread of influenza.

Muir was skeptical about his chances for a win over the Indians who are now back to full strength after sickness weakenned their squad two weeks ago.

Buccaneers starting left guard Roy Tannehill was absent from practice early this week and probably will not see action tomorrow. Guard Jay Gibb just returned from a siege with the flu bug and will not be ready for full duty against the Indians.

Ends Dave Smith and Bill Compton are question marks in the Campbell lineup. Both just returned to practice Tuesday. End Bill Pinkston is also out with flu.

Also absent from practice this week were center Pat Connors and right half John Flaherty. Righ half Frank Smith and left half Dave Hoover returned to practice Tuesday and may play tomorrow.

Big Ken Buran, the Bucs top running back, injured his knee in practice last week but should be back in shape to go against Fremont.

The Indians, who were tabbed to take second place in SCVAL play this year, won their opener against a green Camden squad, 26-6 but ran into trouble in their second game.

Fremont was upset, 25-18, two weeks ago by lowly Los Gatos. Los Gatos was rated ninth in league predictions at the beginning of the season and the Indians will be eager to redeem themselves against Campbell.

Led by right half Jim Zamlich, an all-SCVAL gridder last year, the Indians run out of the straight "T" formation and depend heavily on a "belly series" attack.

Teaming up with Zamlich will be 200 lb. left half Don Hufford, a hard charging back who may give the Bucs plenty of headaches.

Buc JV's Meet Fremont Today

Campbell High's Buc junior varsity gridders will play their first game of the season when they travel to Fremont today at 3:30 p.m. to meet the Indian JV squad.

The Buc JVs were scheduled to meet Willow Glen last Thursday but Willow Glen cancelled the game due to an outbreak of flu. JV coach Wade Wilson had scheduled a game with San Lorenzo Valley High to replace the Willow Glen game but an SCVAL ruling cancelled all league athletic events last week.

The Bucs, as yet untried in competition, should be tough to beat today. With 32 out of 40 squad members out for practice after a spotty attack of influenza the team should be at full strength.

Wilson feels that Fremont "will have to be pretty strong" to win today. Boasting two full teams of almost equal strength, the Bucs should be hard to beat.

SCVAL Cancels Campbell-Camden Varsity Grid Tilt

A move to reschedule the Campbell High-Camden High varsity football game cancelled last week was crushed Tuesday when Santa Clara High refused to shift its schedule to provide an open date for the two local schools.

A request to extend the season to include the game also was defeated by a vote of the Santa Clara Athletic League Board of Managers at their meeting Tuesday.

The Board ruled last Thursday to cancel all scheduled league athletic contests until Tuesday of this week in an attempt to stem an attack of influenza at several member high schools.

Los Gatos Twins To Reign Over Vets' Celebration

The twin queens will reign over all Veterans' Day activities in Los Gatos; appear at the Veterans' Day Dance to be held Saturday, November 9, at Live Oak Inn; the pre-parade "brunch" at the Lyndon Hotel, and lead the parade on November 10.

As Veterans' Day twin queens, Jean and Joan will be representing 14 veteran organizations that make up the United Veterans Council of Santa Clara County. Social Chatter

The Rev. and Mrs. Corwin Olds, 210 N. Second Street, are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy born Tuesday, October 15 at 5 p.m. to their son and his wife, Capt. and Mrs. James H. Olds of Quantico, Virginia.

No name has been selected as yet for the new baby who has two older sisters at home. Captain Olds is Provost Marshal at the Virginia Marine base.

Back home again after a trip to Mexico are Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wade of Briarwood Way, and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson (Doc) Arends of Cambrian Drive.

The two couples flew to Mexico City and went sight-seeing in the metropolis which Dr. Wade says is like San Francisco in many ways. They visited Cuernavaca then went to Mazatlan, the sea coast resort where Dr. Wade reports that he caught an 8½ foot sailfish weighing over 200 pounds which took him 30 minutes to land.

Another city visited which delighted the ladies was Taxco, famous for its silver jewelry. The two couples also attended a bullfight in Mexico City and say they were very unimpressed with the sporting aspects of the event.

Among the souvenirs brought home by the Wades was a young Iguana, or lizard, which will eventually grow to three feet and which the doctor hopes to train to bring in the paper.

The envey of their "stay-at-home friends" are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lucas of 609 E. Campbell Avenue who left yesterday for New York on the first lap of a three and a half or four month trip to Europe and South America.

Before leaving on their extensive jaunt, the Lucas' were feted with dinner and Bon Voyage parties and barbecues.

From New York, the Lucas' will sail to Lisbon Portugal, where they plan to visit relatives for a while. Around first part of December they will sail for South America for a reunion with Mr. Lucas' brother, Augustine Lucas of Sao Paulo, Brazil, whom he hasn't seen in 37 years. While in South America they will also visit nieces and nephews in Venezuela and Caracas, returning around the last part of January.

Trustees Brief PTA on Financial Need of District

The financial status of Moreland School District and the coming bond election were subjects of a panel discussion by members of the board of trustees at the October 8 meeting of El Quito Park-Bucknall PTA.

The trustees supplemented their talks with maps and charts when discussing propositions on the ballot which would provide funds needed to build new classrooms for the rapidly growing district and urged parents to support them.

The trustees pointed out that 700 students are on double session and upon completion of 238 additional homes now being erected the number will increase. One member said that in 1947 the district was basically an agricultural area but due to the steady influx of new families it is rapidly changing into a rural residential area and more classrooms are needed.

Mrs. Clarence Aldor, program chairman, introduced speaker and moderator Sal Millan who in turn introduced panel members Robert Brydon, Floyd Dearborn, Sam Manfree, Gene Riordan, and Watson Taylor.

Upon conclusion of the panel discussion, three new teachers, who are introducing subjects new to the schools this year, outlined their work with children. They are Mrs. Norma Lobaugh, speech; Val Phillips, music; and George O'Callaghan, remedial reading.

Robert Tack, principal of El Quito Park, and Mrs. Emily Bishop, principal of Bucknall, introduced the teachers; Mrs. Aldor introduced community leaders.

Program theme for the year is "The Family and the Communty, Each Shapes the Other, PTA Serves Both."

'Teahouse of the August Moon' Well Received

One of the most amusing and certainly the best play ever produced by the Footlighters was "Teahouse of the August Moon" which was staged last Friday and Saturday evening at Campbell High Auditorium under the direction of William Chestnut. The cast played to an enthusiastic audience both nights.

The play center around the futile efforts of a Captain Fisby who is sent by the Army to acquaint natives of a small Okinawa village with the customs and procedures of democracy. His resultant misadventures with natives who speak no English and an interpretor, Sakini by name, who carries out his every command literally, gave rise to many hilarious moments throughout the entire play.

The entire cast gave an excellent performance both nights but George Nelson, who played Sakini, was outstanding as was Edith Rice in the role of the graceful Geisha girl, Lotus Blossom, who was presented to Captain Fisby as a gift, Nelson's every gesture and reading of the lines made his portrayal of the happy-go-lucky Sakini a memorable one.—V. Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Edgar Adams and Arlene Gamper

Approximately 40 guests attended the reception at the home of the bride's parents which followed the wedding of AM/3 Edgar Eldon Adams, USN, and Arlene Yvonne Gamper on September 27 at the Methodist Church in Santa Clara. The 8 p.m. double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Paul R. Nelson.

After receiving felicitations from their guests and cutting their four-tiered wedding cake, newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Adams left for a honeymoon trip to Carmel. The young couple is now awaiting the groom's transfer to Whidbey Island, Washington, where they will make their future home.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gamper of 14111 Chester Road, Saratoga, and sister of Betty Jean and Janice Gamper. She attended Campbell High School.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Clarice Adams of 104 E. Bellview Ave., Woodward, Oklahoma, and brother of Merlin and Maurice Adams, Maurine Schikedane, and Betty Dickerson. He attended Woodward High School and at the present time is stationed at Moffett Field.

For her wedding, Arlene chose a bouffant white nylon ballerina-length princess gown styled with tiny puffed sleeves and scoop neckline. A white satin scroll cap secured her short veil and she wore a white orchid corsage at her shoulder when given in marriage by her father.

Maid of honor and only attendant was Betty Jean Gamper, sister of the bride, who wore a ballerina-length dress featuring puff sleeves and a bouffant skirt, and a white bandeau trimmed with navy blue. Her corsage was pink carnations.

Lawtan P. Santerfeit, USN, performed the duties of best man.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Gamper, wore a navy blue dress and jacket ensemble with black accessories. Because of the distance involved, Mrs. Adams, mother of the groom, was unable to attend the wedding.

"Becoming Rich", based on I Corinthians 1:4-9, will be the theme for Pastor Welchert's sermon Sunday, October 20, at the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church. Worship services are held at the Saratoga Foothill Club, Park Place, Saratoga. The church will also observe Brotherhood Sunday this day.

The Education committee will meet in the Sebert home Monday, October 21, at 7:30 p.m.

A group of five women of the church will attend the Northern Conference of the ULC Women at St. John's Church in Sacramento on October 23 and 24.

The pastor's Adult Class is conducted every Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the parsonage and anyone interested in the teachings of the Christian faith and the particular work and organization of the Lutheran Church is invited to attend.

Seventh-day Adventist Church

Wednesday evening prayer meeting is now being held at 7:30 p.m. with Andrew Dahl, pastor of the church conducting a special series of Bible studies on the subject of victory.

Last Wednesday evening's study began with a quotation from the book "Christian Service": "The world will be convinced not by what the pulpit teaches but by what the church lives." Key texts used were Ephesians, 4, and Colossians 3, together with Proverbs 28:13.

October 19 a special offering will be taken at the 11 a.m. service for the Voice of Prophecy radio program which originates from Los Angeles. In preparation for this offering, Dr. J. S. Kootsey, Sabbath School superintendent and elder, last Saturday presented recorded songs by the King's Heralds and a brief message from the Voice of Prophecy speaker, H. M. S. Richards.

Among recent guest speakers at the church was Pastor C. C. Bufano of Moline, Illinois, who was first resident pastor of the local church and present at the time of its dedication. Another speaker was Missionary A. E. Anderson, formerly of Burma, who told about experiences in mission work in that land. D. E. Venden, president of the Central California Conference of seventh-day Adventists, reported on African mission stations that he visited this past summer.

QUITO QUORNER

By Helen Hewitt

A bundle of joy—Deane Francine DeLuca weighing 5 pounds 9½ ounces. She arrived on October 4th at San Jose Hospital. She helped mama Nell and dad Sam of 18747 Martha Ave., celebrate their fourth wedding anniversary. Deane is their first.

—o—

Douglas Calicchio of 18789 Martha Ave., is up and about after his operation. (He had his tonsils out.)

—o—

Johnnie Steele of 13365 McCulloch Ave. is sporting a chipped finger bone. Woe is him—no sports for the next six weeks.

—o—

The children of the H. J. Ducotes, Jr., 18768 Martha Ave., recently had the extreme pleasure of having all four of their grandparents at their home at the same time. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ducote, Sr., and a friend, Miss Felicie Lavigne, arrived from Shreveport, Louisiana, and stayed a few days, while Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelso (Mrs. Ducote's parents) were also visiting.

—o—

The flu bug has hit the Quito area just the same as everyplace else. Those that we know are now recovering or have recovered are: Phillip Puma, Paul Hewitt, Jan Shriver, John Ellmore, Helen Hewitt, John Groshan and several others, I am sure.

—o—

WHY DON'T WE DO SOMETHING????

The recent number of Flu cases in this area has brought to our attention that medical practices keep changing and improving and our doctors are busier than ever. With so many families in this area and the children always being the most susceptible, it would seem that a group of us mothers should get together for a short course in practical nursing. It is my understanding that we could get assistance and competent instruction if we could form a group of twelve or more mothers who would be willing to meet once a week for instructions. Any women who would be interested in such a course are invited to phone me at FRanklin 8-7094 and advise of their interest. IF we find enough who are interested, we may make the necessary arrangements.

Pocahontas State Officials to Institute Council

Members of the Degree of Pocahontas throughout California will gather in El Cajon Tuesday evening, October 22 to assist in a triple ceremony instituting the new Nowata Council No. 282, by Great Pocahontas Inez Means of San Jose, and her staff of officers.

Included in the rites at Moose Hall for this newest auxiliary to the Improved Order of Red Men will be initiation of new palefaces in the adoption ceremony and the election and installation of its new officers.

Among those taking part in the ceremony will be Great Guard Mary Cole of San Jose, a member of Campbell Netops Council No. 247; and Great Scouts Ruby White of Los Gatos and Catherine Svilich of Cupertino.

Final ceremony will be the raising of new chiefs, assisted by an escort team from neighboring councils.

Keynoting the lesson-sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" is the Golden Text from Psalms (80:19): "Turn us again, O Lord God of hosts, cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved."

The public reading room at 309 E. Campbell Ave. is open Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 11:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Camp Fire and Blue Bird News

Happy Blue Birds, a third grade group from Hamilton School were guests of Miss Caroline Smiley, 15231 Quito Road, Saratoga, last Thursday. Miss Smiley is the business manager of "World Youth, Inc." publishers of geographic adventure stories. At present they are working on an early California history for third graders.

The Happy Blue Birds were met by Miss Smiley who told them the house was built by herself and Mrs. Maude Meagher, editor of "World Youth" over a three-year period. Their only help was from two boys who helped them put on the tile roof just before they went away to war. The adobe house is built in early California style around a patio. As the door of the patio opened to the girls, a spontaneous "gee' escaped their lips. This charming tiled garden is presided over by a statue of St. Francis of Assisi, who seems to be greeting visitors as they enter.

Next the girls were ushered into the living room which is full of curios from all over the world. Catching their eyes immediately was the 200 year-old entrance to a rich Chinese bride's bed decorated with gold leaf carvings which tell stories of old China, and which is now being used as a divan. Near this antique is a lamp of teak wood carved in the shape of a dragon. A Burma gong is nearby and overhead is a copy of a lamp from the Taj Mahal.

A 40-pound Hindu temple lamp and elephants from Ceylon, a cabinet from China and curtains from Afghanistan excited the girls curiosity. On the upper level of the living room is a beautiful fireplace decorated with copper-cut engravings depicting 47 nationalities.

In the kitchen, Miss Smiley showed them a present with many wrappings and boxes which she got from children in Japan 30 years ago. Then she told them stories of her teaching experiences in India, where she taught for eight years in a little settlement near Bombay. As they gathered around the fireplace, Miss Smiley taught the girls some Indian sign language and explained pictograph writing to them.

A treat and a present of "Eagle Feathers", a booklet, and these girls left a place of enchantment: Diane Rohde, Pam Lesniak, Kristy Cave, Cheryl James, Donna Kern, Wanda Shaddox, and Barbara Webber. They were accompanied by Mesdames Stan Rohde, William Cave and Naomi James.

—o—

At the beginning of the school term, the Happy Blue Birds thought it would be nice to change their name to the Indian word for Bluebird, O-Wa-Issa. This they found to be against Camp Fire custom and so they kept their old name and charter. This is a word of advice to other groups who might have similar ideas.

—o—

The long awaited skating party for Campbell Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds will be held at Rollerland next Saturday, October 19, from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m. Girls will wear their costume dress. Price of shoe skates is fifty cents. Come and get acquaintetd with new members.

—o—

Hamilton School mothers met Monday to organize new groups of Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls. Mrs. Phyllis Black, field director, talked to them about the program. As this was a joint meeting, individual group meetings will be held in the homes of mothers interested in forming groups.

Mrs. S. A. Wirth, 188 Dutard, will hold a meeting for sixth grade mothers; Mrs. J. E. Chappell, 71 Rosemary Lane, fifth grade mothers; Mrs. N. W. Schoenberger will have second grade mothers; and Mrs. Fred Giacomazzi, 651 N. Central, will meet with third grade mothers. The fourth grade is not formed as yet, but if any interested girls will call the coordinator, Mrs. Naomi James, FR 8-7500, she will organize such a group.

—o—

The Campbell District training program will begin Friday, October 18, at 9 a.m. sharp, at the Congregational Church, 400 W. Campbell Ave. New leaders and sponsors are urged to attend. Prospective new leaders, interested parents and friends are welcome.

—o—

Mrs. Ray Coe, president of Campbell District Leaders, has returned home after surgery. Best wishes from all those in Camp Fire go out to her.

Theta Rho Girls To Hold Public Installation

Miss Joan Geist will be installed president of Fidelis Theta Rho Girls' Club in a public ceremony to be held at IOOF. Hall, Campbell, on Wednesday, October 23. Sherry Barker will assume the duties of vice-president. Installing officers will be from Santa Clara club.

Miss Ellen Youngren, outgoing president, conducted the October 9 meeting in which plans were made for the Campbell club to install officers for the Leilani Theta Rho Girls' Club of Santa Cruz this coming Saturday. Installing officer will be Miss Janet Meckler. Marshals will be Diane Wilson and Pat Stephenson. After the business meeting, the club held a practice session.

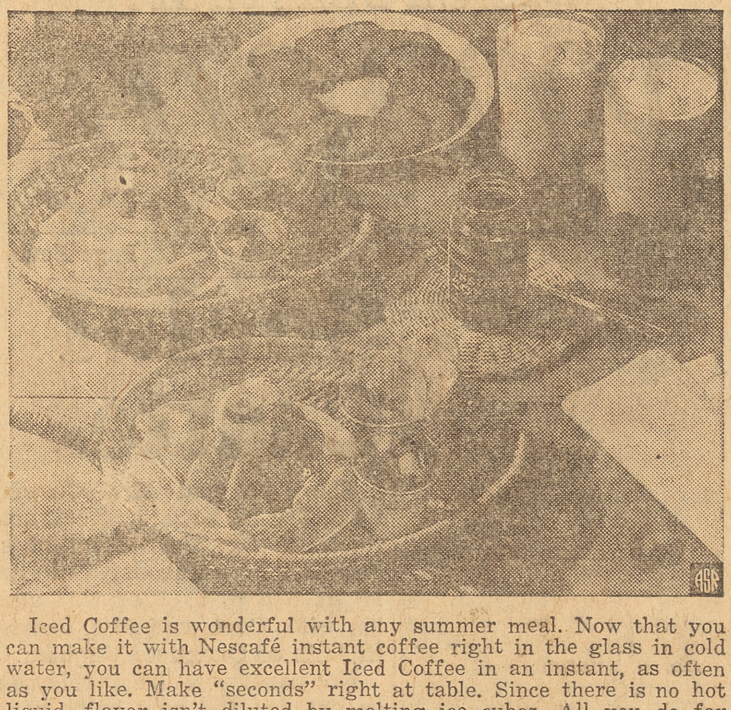
Make Iced Coffee in an Instant Right at the Dinner Table



Iced Coffee is wonderful with any summer meal. Now that you can make it with Nescafé instant coffee right in the glass in cold water, you can have excellent Iced Coffee in an instant, as often as you like. Make "seconds" right at table. Since there is no hot liquid, flavor isn't diluted by melting ice cubes. All you do for perfect Iced Coffee is to fill a tall glass half full of cold water, add one rounded teaspoon of Nescafé, stir, add ice cubes and cold water, or milk, to fill the glass. Delicious Iced Coffee is ready to serve.

To accompany lunch on the patio or breezy porch, you'll enjoy Creamy Nescafé Float, as in the photograph. It's rich, easy, refreshing.

Creamy Nescafé Float

- 2 teaspoons Nescafé
- 2 tablespoons marshmallow cream
- Small amount hot water
- 1 scoop vanilla ice cream (½ cup)
- Milk
- 1 or 2 drops almond extract (optional)

Combine Nescafé, marshmallow cream and hot water in tall glass and stir until dissolved. Add vanilla ice cream, fill with milk, and add extract, if desired. Stir and serve.

Messy Rooms OK, Says Psychologist

Ptrents have more cause to worry about the child that keeps an immaculate room than one that is always messy, Thomas O'Connor, psychologist for the Campbell High School District, told parents at the Moreland PTA meeting Wednesday night.

O'Connor said an untidy room is a perfectly normal state of affairs for the growing child while the child who always keeps his belongings and room in immaculate order should be a cause for concern on the part of the parents for it is not normal for young children.

Campen to Speak To Women Voters

Guest speaker will be Howard Campen, county executive, who will discuss over-lapping units of city and county government.

All interested women are invited to attend. Further information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Hartney, RE 6-8541.

'Quonset Hut' vs. Masonry

The Press has long advocated that a compromise was possible between the two divergent viewpoints on the new "Controlled Manufacturing" zoning ordinance which has been under fire for many months.

We are happy to note that when the two factions sat down and talked things over many of the differences of opinion were ironed out.

The Planning Commission, after a lengthy study, recommended the passage of the "CM" ordinance, and, in addition, recommended that the new type of zoning be applied to Campbell's new industrial park at the southern city limits.

A number of weaknesses were found in the wording of the original ordinance. Through conferences the loopholes were patched and the revised "CM" ordinance is soon to go to bat again.

We think it is commendable that both sides in this "CM" fight were able to work together so amicably.

We understand that basically there is one major point of disagreement that remains between the two groups.

It is our understanding that the "antis" desire to eliminate the restriction that calls for only masonry constructed buildings in a "CM" zone.

It is our opinion that should this restriction be removed, the value of the "CM" ordinance would be so weakened that it would be useless, unnecessary and superflous to adopt it. Its effectiveness would be affected to such a degree that we might as well forget about trying to develop an attractive industrial park which will be an asset to the community.

There are other locations in the Campbell area where quonset-type buildings can be placed without any objections on our part.

Or to put it more bluntly, these areas are already blighted by similar construction.

We grant that there is an apparent need for these sheet-metal buildings in an industrial area. They probably serve their purpose faithfully and well. But we feel very strongly that they should be confined to a definite area.

In our opinion, it is a zoning impossibility to try to reconcile the two types of construction, masonry and quonset-hut.

There are those who argue that we are attempting in Campbell to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear.

They say that it is useless to try to better conditions.

That is a defeatist attitude from the word go.

Far-sighted people who have considered the big picture and how it affects the community as a whole feel that the new industrial park has possibilities of development in a manner beneficial to the community, esthetically, economically and in every way.

We are on their side.

It Could Mean a Life

Judge John D. Blaine, popular Press columnist, in his weekly column, "Over the Years", has called attention in recent weeks to traffic hazards caused in Campbell by irresponsible bicycle riders.

He has pointed out that youthful bike riders disregard traffic regulations with wild abandon and make it difficult for pedestrians, autoists, and other bike riders to navigate safely.

We think the good Judge has done a service in emphasizing how serious this particular traffic hazard has become. The Judge speaks as an expert on such matters. For not only is he a former justice of the peace, but he is an expert bike rider who has been pedaling in and around Campbel for many years.

We know it is difficult to get through to the kids on this important traffic problem, but we feel that every effort should be made by parents, schools and police to impress the youngsters with the importance of obeying traffic regulations.

It could man a life.

Over the Years

By John D. Blaine

Last week I talked about that jolly thought style of a thing being first scandalous, then platitudinous, and then called right.

At that time my subject was our way of thinking about the bicycle. This time my subject will be our way of thinking about law enforcement in relation to the automobile.

When in 1927 I first became justice of the peace of Campbell Township the official squad for enforcing traffic laws was under control of the county. It had become a scandal for prominent folk to have their tickets "fixed".

For example, a prominent woman of Campbell received a ticket for speeding. Before night the squad captain called on the phone and apologized, said he would tear the ticket up. That sort of "fixing" was common.

Before the scandal of fixing had become platitudinous and about to be called right, control of the traffic squad was changed to the state.

Prominent folk now changed their tactics. Through automobile clubs they lobbied the state legislature for laws to make arrests on the highwyays difficult. For instance, section 750 of our stae Vehicle Code reads:

"Color of Vehicle and Uniform To Be Used by Eenforcement Officers. Every member of California Highway Patrol and every other peace officer while on duty for the exclusive or main purpose of enforcing the provisions of this code shall wear a full distinctive uniform. And if such officer while so on duty uses a motor vehicle such vehicle must be painted a distinctive color specified by the commissioner."

As a result of this law traffic officers and their motor vehicles became so distinctive that when folk of common sense stopped to think they wondered how any arrests could be made at all. The absurdity of the situation is made all the more evident by the second half of Section 750, which reads:

"The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to an officer assigned exclusively to the duty of investigating and securing evidence in reference to any theft of a vehicle or failure of a person to stop in the event of an accident or in reference to any felony charge or to any officer engaged in serving any warrant when such officer is not engaged in patrolling the highways for the purpose of enforcing traffic laws."

What that long sentence in effect says is this: Officers may use common sense in enforcing the law—except when patrolling the highways.

Most scandalous of all is the law prohibiting speed traps. This law is plain lunacy. For the most certain way of proving excessive speed is precisely the speed trap. This certainty is probably the main reason why organized car owners object to it.

In California Vehicle Code we read: "751. Speed Trap Prohibited." Then follows a long sentence of about 60 words saying that no officer trying to enforce traffic laws shall use a speed trap.

Then in another long sentence a speed trap is defined. It is just what you might reasonably expect. It is a measured distance with boundaries marked, so that the speed of a vehicle may be timed. In other words, it is precisely what common sense would suggest.

And apparently the common sense of it is precisely what organized car owners object to, as I have already suggested.

No reform of organized car owners is in sight. Though prominent folk led in establishing the scandalous situation I have described, ordinary people are accepting the benefits and have joined in passing through the platitudinous and are now calling this situation right. Common sense about traffic enforcement is in general regarded as an insult.

I know of only one place where common sense is being used in making traffic arrests. That place is the typical incorporated city. In Campbell, for instance, our police do not have to use conspicuous cars. Traffic fines in our city average, I believe, more than $1,000 a month.

Happy thought, within incorporated cities car owners might forget themselves and join in a stand for common sense. Here's hoping!

OUT on the LIMB with George Vierhus

Maybe we have a perverted sense of values but we always enjoy it when someone cuts us down to size whenever we become a wee bit smug.

A couple of weeks ago in this column we sarcastically rapped the knuckles of the County Planning Commission by criticizing the use of "bi-monthly" on the Commission's agenda as it pertains to the twice-monthly meetings of the group.

We held that "semi-monthly" was what was meant and that "bi-monthly" pertained to every two months, not twice-a-month.

Evelyn Adamson, deputy city clerk, called our hand on this deal. She did a little research on her own and uncovered the fact that "bi-monthly" was used correctly by the County Planning Commission, although "semi-monthly" is preferable to avoid confusion.

Evelyn prefaced her report to us with the note: "George, Don't tell anyone, but I got this information straight from the horses mouth (Noah Webster)."

We hastily scurried to our own Webster and, by golly, we found that Evelyn was right.

Some days it just doesn't pay to be smart—or smug.

—o—

Someone has said that publishing a weekly newspaper is merely overcoming one crisis after another.

Those of us who work at it heartily agree but, confidentially, we have a sneaking hunch that's why we stick at it.

We never know what's going to happen next.

Take last week for example.

—o—

We were justly proud of our efforts in putting out the 16-page paper in which we published some 21 local pictures (17 of which we took ourselves)

There were times, however, before, during and after press time when we had a few misgivings as to whether the wheels of fortune were going our way.

Becauuse of the intra-district rivalry (and probably the start of a traditional "big game") we gave the scheduled Camden High-Campbell High football game a big spread (six pictures yet). Somehow we missed the fact that the field of the battle had been changed from Camden to Campbell. It was not until just as we were ready to go on the press that we learned of the switch.

Sgt. John Morgan of the Campbell police is responsible for setting us right.

He poked his head in the plant late Wednesday night and noted the error just as we were going on the press.

John had been contacted by school officers previously when the change was made because of the local traffic problem that was anticipated.

—o—

We verified the change by calling Sam Reed, principal of Campbell High. Our phone call awakened Sam out of a sound sleep for which we were duly apologetic to both Sam and his wife. But we were able to make the change in our stories before the presses were rolling.

It was sort of an anti-climax, so to speak, for all the games of the league were cancelled by the principals at noon on Thursday because of the spread of flu among the schools in the SCVAL.

It is hoped that the game will be rescheduled for November 1. It would be a shame not to get this natural "big game" off the ground.

—o—

We have no regrets about the big spread we gave the two schools even if the game was not played. We are happy to note that it was appreciated by the schools. Sam Reed thanked us for it when he informed us that the games had been cancelled at Thursday noon.

We weren't able to announce the cancellations in our Thursday issue, as were the afternoon daily papers. We noted, however, that although both the San Jose News and the Los Gatos Times-Observer were able to put the cancellation story on the front page their sports pages in the same issue weren't changed and reported the games coming up.

—o—

To add a certain amount of zest (?) to the overall press-night effort, Sam Zierke and Norm Sebert, who run our press into the wee hours of the morning, report that at 2 a.m. Thursday the power went off. The press run then came to an abrupt and unscheduled halt.

Fortunately for the peace of mind of all concerned the power failure lasted only 30 seconds. Thus it didn't affect the regular schedule to any extent.

But both Norm and Sam claim that it was one of the longest 30 seconds on record. When the lights went on they just pulled the switch and were off and running.

The "witching hour" in this case was the "switching hour".

—o—

An illustration of how easy it is to get similar sounding words mixed up on the phone occurred last week in a classified ad in our paper. The particular ad offered a walnut dining room set for sale. But in describing the table, the word "dirty" was used instead of "sturdy".

Lyle Ray, our efficient office manager who also runs the class ad department claims that in taking the ad over the phone it sounded like "dirty" to him even when the word was repeated.

However, we apologize to Mrs. William Gould for the mistake. We are running the ad correctly this week.

Mrs. Gould is the wife of Dr. William Gould, professor of journalism at State. We have a sneaking hunch that Bill will find use for this error in one of the journalism lectures.

—o—

Although Lyle Ray was forced to take a brickbat because of a natural mistake in this one ad, he received an indirect bouquet from another subscriber.

Mrs. Mark J. Thomas, on Dell Ave., who, in complaining of the non-delivery of her paper, claimed that the main reason she wanted the paper was because of the legal advertisements. She also said she read the classifieds but little else.

That was the first time we had heard that reason given by a subscriber for wanting the paper.

The reason Lyle should be pleased in this case is that he is in charge of the legal advertising as well as the classified.

Most of the time that phase is overlooked as far as reader-interest is concerned.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

Daily columnists, in their quest for the spectacular, often overlook the fact that Congressmen are something besides cigar chewing men with overstuffed middles who meet in smoke filled rooms to connive for political advantage. The cartoonist version of a modernday politician isn't as accurate, I can assure you, as some would suppose. Private citizens would be amazed at the amount of time the House members collectively spend on their knees, without fanfare or publicity, in simple prayer.

Each Thursday the House prayer group meets at breakfast and there are always twenty-five to fifty in attendance . . . Our two-year old chapel close to the House Chamber and away from the public eye is not only beautiful— it is well-used . . . Within thirty seconds after the gavel falls from the hand of Speaker Rayburn to signal the start of a session all House members bow their heads in daily prayer and listen intently to Reverend Braskamp, our distinguished Chaplain.

The custom of starting each day's deliberation with prayer dates back to the Continental Congress. On Tuesday, September 6, 1774, Mr. Thomas Cushing, of Massachusetts proposed that Congress have a "season of prayer" every morning. Mr. Samuel Adams moved that the Episcopal clergyman, Rev. Mr. Duche be requested to offer prayer on September 7, 1774. On July 8, 1776, John Hancock wrote to Reverend Duche asking him to accept an appointment as the first Chaplain of Congress. The Reverend accepted and opened each session at 9:00 A.M. with prayer until his resignation on October 17, 1776. The House voted him $150 as an acknowledgement of his services which he promptly refused and directed that the money should be applied to the relief of widows and children of Pennsylvania officers killed in battle. According to some sources Reverend Duche was actually not sympathetic to the cause of the new Republic. He went to England and did not return to America until 1792.

The first sessions of the New Congress under the Constitution were convened on March 4, 1789 and were not opened with prayer. May 1, 1789 marked the appointment of Reverend William Linn as the first Chaplain under the Constitution. Since that time a member of the Clergy has held the official position continuously except for the six years from 1855 to 1861 when District of Columbia clergymen served on a round robin basis. Over the years the House has been served by 19 Presbyterian ministers and an equal number of Methodists. Seven Baptists have officiated at our daily devotional as have four Episcopalians, two Unitarians, Congregationalists, and Christians. One Universalist has, also, served.

This information is not sensational which is probably the reason that it is seldom written about in the public press. The oft-maligned "politicians" who represent you do have a good many entries on the credit side of the ledger. Their respect for religion and what it means to our way of life is one of them!

"7 minutes on the job...saves my wife hours of drudgery"
California Fish and Game biologist, Elden Vestal, figures it takes him just 7 minutes' work to provide his home with 24 hours of gas and electricity.
"I wish everything was that reasonable. When you think of all the work gas and electricity do in our house, 7 minutes of my time seems little enough to pay for such a necessity." (The Vestals' Fresno home is equipped with 41 appliances.) Mr. Vestal makes a good point: with gas and electricity so cheap in California, you can afford to use more of it. Most people do . . . that's why your P. G. and E. bill may be higher than in years past. Yet the price of a unit of P. G. and E. gas and electricity is actually ⅓ lower today than in 1936. Can you think of anything else that costs less than it did 21 years ago?

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Divide perennial clumps and transplant to new locations.
2. Keep after pests. Use a good all-purpose spray. Don't forget to remove diseased plants and leaves to protect the garden next year.
3. Roses, camellias and most other hardy shrubs are in containers at local nurseries now. This is good planting time.
4. After all the fruit has been picked, begin winter spraying of deciduous fruit trees. No need to wait until they shed their leaves.
5. Blooming chrysanthemums can be selected from nurseries now to provide fall cut flowers and garden beauty.

New Dutch Iris

The first craze for bulb-rooted flowers swept Europe during the seventeenth century and certainly the beauty of the flowers offered a solid foundation for this enthusiasm. Bulb-rooted flowers are not only lovely but they are dependable and undemanding as well. Dutch Iris have retained their popularity through the centuries, becoming especially popular on the Pacific Coast since the second World War.

And as enthusiasm for these exciting members of the iris family has grown, many new varieties have been produced in a wider range of colors. The California Association of Nurserymen says these new varieties as well as the old favorites are now available in quantity at nurseries.

Descriptions of bulbous iris tend to be rather complicated and certainly not at all adequate because the variegated forms differ in shape as well as color of markings. Repairing to the ancient adage of "one picture being worth a thousand words", many nurserymen have full-color illustrations and photographs of the iris in full bloom. From these you may choose your color scheme with full authority. You may also choose with assurance because bulbs are so reliable, you can count on your blooms to be duplicates of those in the photographs.

Dutch Iris come in solid shades of blue, yellow and white. The variegated forms include many shades of these hues, plus some related colors such as bronze, yellowish greens and mauve.

These attractive members of the iris family make excellent cut flowers and the wide range of colors makes decorating with them easy and pleasurable. The flowers should be cut when the first spot of color shows, for longest indoor bloom; they will open in water overnight. Leaves should not be taken at the time the flowers are cut.

The reason for cutting only the flowers and not the leaves is that the next year's success is dependent upon the plant retaining as much nourishment in the bulbs as possible. If the leaves are cut off, the plant will have less food to store up.

In landscaping, Dutch Iris are particularly well-suited when used in combination with other bulbs and with taller plants behind them for background. Tulips and ranunculus in either contrasting or complimentary hues are wonderfully suited for pairing with Dutch Iris. Great success can be attained with such bulb combinations, if the home gardener selects varieties and plants with the thought of lengthening the spring blooming season.

Dutch Iris are very effective planted as borders with other plants; annuals, perennials or shrubs. Taller green plants provide a wonderful background to the light, bright butterfly-shaped flowers. Some suggested plants for use with Dutch Iris bulbs are candytuft, Shasta Daisies and clarkia.

Once put in the ground, 3 or 4 inches deep and about 6 inches apart, the bulbs may be left in the ground for years in warm winter regions. If they are removed at the end of the blooming season, they should not be kept out of the ground more than 2 or 3 months.

These undemanding bulbs flourish in well-drained, porous soil and in full sun. In cold areas, such as mountain regions, a deep mulch is best laid over the planted area to keep the bulbs warm.

New Raphiolepis Hybrids

The success of the evergreen raphiolepis indicates that Californians do not take long to catch on to a good thing. In 1938 a splendid variety of raphiolepis, the Pink India Hawthorn, was introduced by San Jose growers. Since then, this variety and newer related introductions, rival in popularity shrubs which have been around for centuries.

This steadily increasing popularity is based upon usefulness, lovely flowers and handsome foliage. The raphiolepis is especially adaptable to foundation planting as it is usually quite low-growing and easily trained to shape.

All raphiolepis are easy to care for and can be planted almost anywhere, in sun or shade and in average soil. However, the plant makes two changes to suit site conditions. The flowers grow more densely in the sun and in the coastal areas the colors of some varieties deepen in intensity.

One very recent Pink Hawthorn introduction is the Springtime. The color of this leathery-foliaged plant has been compared to that of apple blossoms. Indeed, the shape of the flowers, which appear from January to April, is reminiscent of fruit blooms. This Springtime raphiolepis is somewhat taller than other varieties and is a moderately fast grower.

The deeper-hued red varieties include the Coates Crimson and the Enchantress. Both these densely-flowered, low shrubs bloom on into the summer. The Coates Crimson is more low-growing than the Enchantress. New varieties Jack and Bill Evans are noted for their thick glossy foliage and bright pink flowers. The foliage of all of these varieties is almost completely hidden when the shrubs are in bloom. The rest of the year the shrubs make quite handsome specimen plants.

Dracena Mme. Andres

The dracena family provides three excellent small trees for gardeners striving for a tropical effect: Dragon Tree (dracaena draco), Dracena Palm (d. indivisa or cordy-line indivisa) and Dracena Mme. Andres.

Dragon Tree makes a wonderful novelty accent because of its attractive, unique habit. It has a short, stout, very bare trunk, while the top of the small tree is widespreading with clusters of dark green, blade-like leaves. This tree has a moderate rate of growth.

Dracena Palm, originally from the Canary Islands, grows well outdoors throughout the state. It has stiff, long, narrow, dark green leaves. The slender trunk starts branching at 6 or 8 feet and may have two heads. The Dracena Palm grows to about 25 feet in height with a 10 foot spread.

Dracena Mme. Andres should be protected from the elements by an overhanging roof or some other sheltering building feature. More shrub-like than the other two dracenas, the Mme. Andres has long, narrow, sword-like leaves varying in color from bronze to purple. This exotic effect makes the Mme. Andres an excellent choice for tubbed or open specimen planting.

The California Association of Nurserymen recommends these palm-like trees for their easy-care features. They need watering about once a month and fertilization about once a year (rotted steer manure) in winter. Only the old trees need an occasional pruning.

Although not very particular about soil requirements, the dracenas thrive best in well-drained, moist, sandy loam. They are drought resistant and relatively disease resistant but will not endure prolonged freezing temperatures.

The Port of San Francisco handles about one-fifth of the world's coffee.
